SICK MAMMA HELPED CAUSE.

Little Boy's Consumptive Mother Inspired Red Cross Seal Sale.

The little boy said that he wanted 10 cents' worth of Red Cross Christmas seals. The rich woman was buying 50 cents' worth and the lad seemed impatient.

"Just a minute," counseled the clerk in charge.

"But I must get back to my mamma. She's sick, but she wants the seals just the same," announced the lad with a show of spirit.

The rich woman turned to look at him. He was a sweet faced youngster, with sparkling eyes, who seemed not to mind that his suit was not as warm as it might be.

"You say your mamma is ill," she asked.

"Yes," he said in a tone that indicated an acquaintance with suffering beyond his years. "She's got consumption, but she said she was going to take a whack at it by buying the seals. How can she take a whack at it with the seals?"

"You had better give me more seals instead of change for this five dollar bill," she said to the clerk. Then to the lad she remarked:

"You tell your mamma that she has taken a bigger whack at tuberculosis than she thought."

There is no need to point the moral. The seals are on sale everywhere.

"Mrs. Gabber is gifted with a sixth sense."

"And what is it, pray?"

"Inexhaustibility."—Buffalo Express.

HAD BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

So Badly Man Could Not Lie Down—Cured by Vinol.

For years and years we have been telling the people of Barre that Vinol is a wonderful remedy for bronchial troubles. Here is positive proof:

Tilden, Ill. "For five years I suffered from bronchial asthma. In the winter time I was obliged to sit in a morris chair all night, as I could not lie down, owing to that dreadful choking sensation. I tried nearly every known remedy, but nothing gave me any relief until one day I met the station agent at Willsville, Ill., and he said he had been a sufferer for years, but had been cured by Vinol. I at once commenced to take it, and the result is my cough is gone, my appetite has improved, and I can lie down and sleep all night, and my experience leads me to believe that Vinol is a certain remedy for bronchial asthma." John H. Condel, Tilden, Ill.

The reason that cough syrups fail in such cases is because they are palliative only, while Vinol removes the cause, being a constitutional remedy in which are combined the healing elements of fresh cod livers, together with tonic iron and beef peptone. It strengthens and revitalizes the entire system and assists nature to expel the disease.

CLARKE LIKES NEW BILL

Looks with Favor on New Ship Bill for Merchant Marine

WILL NOT OPPOSE ADMINISTRATION

In Its Endeavors to Enact Legislation to Help Commerce

Washington, Dec. 6.—Prospects for the administration merchant marine bill at the coming session of Congress were enhanced Saturday night when it became known that Senator James P. Clarke of Arkansas, who led the Democratic revolt against the ship purchase bill in the last session, looked with favor upon the new ship bill proposed by government heads. Senator Clarke, who was renominated for president pro tempore by the majority caucus after a spirited fight against him, based on his opposition to the ship purchase bill, let it be known that he would not oppose the new merchant marine measure drafted after conference between Secretaries McAdoo and Redfield. The Arkansas senator during the debate in the Democratic caucus Friday was asked by several administration senators for his opinion of the new bill. He frankly stated that he saw no objection to it and could give it his support. His opposition to the bill last spring, he said, was because of the government ownership feature. The bill now proposed by Secretaries McAdoo and Redfield contemplates a naval auxiliary merchant marine which he could favor and provide for government ownership of stock only in case private capital is lacking, thus eliminating the dominant government corporation feature of the old bill.

Senator Clarke's attitude was a matter of optimistic comment among administration senators Saturday night, who said it had been influential in reconstructing a harmonious Senate and preventing a struggle over cloture at the opening of Congress to-day.

OVERFLOW PEACE SHIP.

Disappointed Advocates to Have Containers Aboard Frederick VIII.

New York, Dec. 6.—To accommodate a number of peace advocates who arrived at New York too late to sail on the Oscar II., it was announced at the Ford peace headquarters, reservations will be made on the Frederick VIII. of the same line, which sails on Dec. 8. This second party may number a dozen and, it was announced, will include three governors who did not go on the Oscar II. Their names were not revealed.

Included among those who missed the Oscar II. was Frederick Bruce Davis, a Yale student, who, after a hurried trip from San Francisco, sacrificed his ambition to save Mrs. Alice Park of Palo Alto, Cal., a suffrage worker, the disappointment of being left behind. Davis helped Mrs. Park to get her ticket and after he saw her safely aboard the ship went back to buy his own ticket. Before he returned to the pier the steamer had started.

HOW AUSTRIANS KEEP WARM.

Underclothing Heated by Electricity in Trenches.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Electrically warm underclothing for the soldiers in the winter trenches is the latest Austrian invention, reported to Washington Saturday by an American attaché at The Hague. Fine flexible wires are woven into the fabric. Connection is made by each wearer with a cable running along the trench and fed from a generator in the rear. About 250 watts of current is used at 30 to 35 volts, costing one to two cents per hour per man. The suits weigh a little less than two pounds and cost about $20 each.

WATCH SORE THROATS

because swollen glands or inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and lung trouble easily follows.

As Nature's corrector of throat troubles the pure cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue; its tested glycerine is curative and healing, while this wholesome emulsion relieves the trouble and upbuilds the forces to resist tubercular germs and avert the weakening influence which usually follows.

If any member of your family has a tender throat, get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion to-day. Physicians prescribe it to avert throat troubles, overcome bronchial disorders and strengthen the lungs. No alcohol or harmful drugs. Always insist on Scott's.

LAWS OF MAN NOT BINDING, THEY CLAIM

C. L. Fairchild of Burlington and Mrs. Cora Smith "Married by God"—Judge Skeptical.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Cora Smith of Westfield, Mass., and C. L. Fairchild, a mission worker of Burlington, Vt., who left their families and eloped to Chicago, told Judge Hopkins Saturday they had been "married by God last April," and that the laws of man could not affect them.

The court was somewhat skeptical of the statement and held them pending the arrival of Fairchild's wife and Mrs. Smith's husband, who is a photographer. Fairchild left two children at home to comfort his wife, and had three with him when arrested.

The couple went to Springfield, Mass., on Oct. 25. There Fairchild preached in a mission and Mrs. Smith played the organ. They asserted they had not agreed to come to Chicago together, but that God had "called" them there individually and without the knowledge of one another. Fairchild insisted that God spoke to him audibly.

W. P. Murray of 6723 South Michigan avenue, a real estate dealer, said that Mrs. Smith was the wife of his cousin and that she had "driven her husband nearly crazy over religion."

WHITLOCK WILL GO BACK.

No Change in Plans, Says State Department at Washington.

Washington, Dec. 6.—American Minister Whitlock is to return to Brussels, Belgium, when he sails from the United States on the 28th on the steamer Rotterdam, it was stated officially at the state department. Friday night dispatches said the German military governor at Brussels had recommended to his government that the American legation be transferred to the seat of the Belgian government at Havre. State department officials said they had received no intimation to that effect and that Mr. Whitlock's plans were unchanged.

SHOT THROUGH SHOULDER.

Friette Not Seriously Wounded at Portland.

Portland, Me., Dec. 6.—Joseph Friette was shot through the shoulder Saturday evening on India street, it is alleged, by Luigi Rezzitti, who was arrested. He was not seriously injured. The trouble grew out of a dispute over a bill.

BIG FAIR IS NOW HISTORY

Lights Out at the San Francisco Panama-Pacific Exposition

FAIR SHOWS A PROFIT OF $2,000,000

Record Attendance of Nearly 400,000 on Last Day of Exposition

San Francisco, Dec. 6.—The world bade the Panama-Pacific international exposition farewell at San Francisco Saturday, the closing day, making a new record in its attendance history. From dawn until evening, when the towers and minarets of the exposition began to glow for the last time, steady streams of humanity passed through the turnstiles. At 8 o'clock Saturday night 350,735 visitors were recorded, more than had been admitted on San Francisco day, November 2, when the record of 348,327 was hung up.

The formal farewell ceremonies held in the open were attended by one of the largest crowds ever present at any exercises on the grounds. The formal ceremonies retiring the different buildings from service were held during the afternoon on platforms erected at the various portals.

In a financial way it is expected the exercises will show a profit of something like $2,000,000—perhaps more. All indebtedness was two-thirds over. The expense of preparing the site and the buildings for the opening date was said to be approximately $50,000,000. There was no federal appropriation for the undertaking, although the various departments of the United States government made displays for which $800,000 had been allowed for maintenance.

The exposition attendance was beyond all hopes of the management, especially after the outbreak of the war, when for a time there was talk of postponement of the opening date. On a daily average the attendance has been more than 62,000. Within 12 days after February 20, 1,000,000 persons passed through the gates. The 17,000,000 mark was reached November 12.

At 6 p. m. the 10 main exhibit palaces of the exposition closed their doors for the last time, so far as the public was concerned, six hours in advance of the formal closing exercises at midnight, which marked the termination of the exposition period.

WILLIAM F. WALKER PAROLED.

New Britain Embassador Had Served Seven Years in State Prison.

New Britain, Conn., Dec. 6.—William F. Walker of New Britain, who has been paroled after seven years in Wethersfield state prison for embezzlement of more than half a million dollars from a New Britain bank, left the prison Saturday. He had been working on the prison newspaper in the little old-fashioned print shop in the prison storehouse. When summoned Saturday he showed no emotion. He changed his suit for apparel bought by his sister, wife of Judge John Coates of New Britain. In the warden's office he signed the parole papers, thanked the officers about him for their kindness, and went out into the sharp air and bright sunshine.

"Just as calm and cool as any of them when they leave here," was Warden Garner's comment. "Not a sign of joy, not a sign of anticipation, just walked out as he came in, without comment or emotion."

Walker was brought to New Britain in the prison automobile driven by Warden Garner's chauffeur. On Friday Mrs. Coates applied to Colonel N. G. Osborn of New Haven, chairman of the board of parole, for permission to take her brother outside the state. She was told it was a matter which the full board should decide.

ARREST FOUR LUMBERMEN.

Men Charged with Violating Federal Contract Labor Law.

Colebrook, N. H., Dec. 6.—Four more lumbermen employed by the Connecticut River Lumber company were brought in from the woods Saturday by United States Marshal Charles J. O'Neill, charged with violating the federal contract labor law. Twelve men, including two contractors, J. H. Gates of Colebrook, Vt., and A. H. Swan of Lewiston, Me., were arrested Friday. Marshal O'Neill has several other warrants to serve.

It is expected that the men will be taken before a federal commissioner either here or in Concord next week.

Appreciated Quarantine.

The city fathers in a Kansas town received the following card of thanks recently:

"I want to thank the city authorities for quarantining me and my family for two weeks recently because one of the children had the measles. During that time my wife sought us with her sewing, being undisturbed by callers just at meal times. We had three square meals a day, as no one came in, and she wasn't permitted to go out. We enjoyed two weeks of good long nights' sleep, and, best of all, a cousin with four children who arrived to visit us saw the smallest sign on the door and left town as scared as I will never come back again. I wish to thank the authorities and hope they will be equally as thoughtful of our comfort some time again."—Kansas Journal.

"You and Gramp were to get along pretty well!"

"Yes, you see, he never bothered anything but trouble, and that's all I ever had to lead."—Boston Transcript.

Topics of the Home and Household.

Mint will grow in water as many other plants, if left in a sunny window and given plenty of air.

Water in which macaroni has been cooked will make excellent starch to use for dainty lingerie garments or fine gingham.

Canned fruits that have turned acid may be restored by scalding up with additional sugar, or they may be made into a sweet pickle by adding some sugar, a little vinegar and a few whole cloves.

For dusting the kitchen range nothing is better than a whisk broom covered with a piece of old black stocking. Dip the whisk, when covered, in kerosene oil; then expose it to the air until the oil has evaporated. Treated in this way the brush will absorb the dust, not scatter it.

Making Sauce and Gravies.

The preparation and appearance of sauces and gravies are of the highest consequence in modern cooking, and in nothing else does the talent and taste of the cook so display itself. Their special suitability for the various viands they are to accompany cannot be too carefully studied in order that they shall harmonize and blend with them perfectly.

Sauces should possess a decided character of their own; and, whether sharp or sweet, savory or plain, should carry out their names in a distinct manner. A sauce may be hot or cold, but a gravy is invariably hot. A sauce is usually served in a sauce boat, while a gravy is in a gravy bowl or tureen.

A brown sauce, generally speaking, should not be as thick as a white sauce because it is usually much richer and belongs in a way to the gravy family; the white sauce under its various names should not be thicker than cold honey, as it is intended to adhere to the poultry or other foods that it covers, allowing enough remaining in the dish to put an extra spoonful over each portion in serving. It should always be smooth and free from lumps, preferably thickened with butter and flour, rubbed to a paste with butter or eggs. In thickening the sauce it should reach boiling point, but never boil lest it curdle.

On no account should sauces be thickened with enough cornstarch, for instance, to become like custard in texture. A cream sauce must always be served hot and kept hot to be at its best. Browned flour will be found the best to thicken sauces and gravies with. Remember that small quantities cool quickly and as the gravy is served it is wise to set it back on the plate-warmer or over a hot water dish during the serving of the course at which it is used, so that the last helping may be as good as the first and not congealed or greasy by being allowed to stand and cool.

A small double boiler, two smooth saucepans of different size, and, if many sauces are made, a bain-marie pan and saucepans, should all be kept exclusively for this purpose. The latter is a French convenience too little known in the United States. It consists of a deep square pan filled with boiling water into which are
